Scripture Corner SALVATION HISTORY

In today's Gospel (Matthew 21:33-43) Jesus provides a challenging parable. It is truly a wonderful view of salvation history. A landowner is presented, representing God. The many tenants are seen as the leaders of the Israelites.

God sends his servants to collect the produce of the landowner's fields. Often in the Old Testament the prophets are seen as servants. "From the day that your fathers left the land of Egypt even to this day, I have sent you untiringly all my servants the prophets." (Jeremiah 7:25) Unfortunately, the prophets were often the victims of abuse. Here also the servants sent are abused and even killed.

The landowner is upset with the tenants and decides to send his own son. The son, who represents Jesus is also treated shamefully! "They seized him, threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him." (Matthew 21:35) "Jesus also suffered outside the gate, to consecrate the people by his own blood." (Hebrews 13:12)

Matthew cites Psalm 118: 22-23 which foretells the rejection of Jesus, but also announces that he will be the "cornerstone" of this new structure, the church. God says to the Jewish leaders, "The kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people that will produce its fruit." (Matthew 21:43) It is critical, therefore, that the Church produce good works for God, especially justice. "Make justice your aim: redress the wronged, hear the orphan's plea, defend the widow." (Isaiah 1:17)

The parable completes its outline of salvation history by announcing this final period, the period of the church. After the period of Israel and the period of Jesus there is now the period of the church, which will last "until the end of the age." (Matthew 28:20)

MINISTRY COORDINATORS LEADERSHIP RETREAT

SAVE THE DATE - OCTOBER 28

All Ministry coordinators and their rising leaders are asked to save October 28 as the date for our 4th Semi-Annual Ministry Coordinators Retreat. With a theme of “Servant Leaders of a Missionary Church,” the retreat will include time to:

- Pray and reflect
- Consider our servant leader role model – Jesus
- Discuss, reflect and share how servant leadership can be messy
- Explore how to avoid the trap of being a maintenance vs. a missionary ministry leader

The retreat will discuss how people process information differently and how this information can help the servant leader. There will also be time to reflect on the biggest challenge facing each ministry as it strives to support the vision and mission of St. Francis and our call to be missionary disciples. For more information, contact Deacon Dan Finn at deacondanfinn@gmail.com.

THE MUSINGS OF THE PASTOR

October is National Domestic Violence Awareness Month. For that reason I want to devote my column to this very timely topic. I am going to base this column on a statement issued by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, which is entitled “When I Call for Help: A Pastoral Response to Domestic Violence against Women.” Our bishops state that domestic violence is any kind of behavior that a person uses to control an intimate partner through fear and intimidation. It includes physical, sexual, psychological, verbal, and economic abuse. The bishops provide some examples of domestic abuse: battering, name-calling and insults, threats to kill or harm one’s partner or children, destruction of property, marital rape, and forced sterilization or abortion.

Younger, unmarried women are at the greatest risk for domestic violence. Women ages 16 to 24 are nearly three times as vulnerable to attacks by intimate partners as those in other age groups. Abuse victims between 35 and 49 run the highest risk of being killed. Some women face particular obstacles. Women of color may not view the criminal justice system as a source of help. Additionally, in some cultures women feel pressured to keep problems within the home and keep the family together at all costs. Some fear that they will lose face in the community if they leave. Immigrant women often lack familiarity with the language and legal systems of this country. Their abusers may threaten them with deportation.

Women in rural communities may find themselves with fewer resources. The isolation imposed by distance and lack of transportation can make their situation more serious. Isolation can also be a factor for women who do not work outside the home. They may have less access to financial resources and to information about domestic violence. Women with disabilities and elderly women are also particularly vulnerable to violence.

Some who suffer from domestic violence are also victims of stalking, which includes following a person, making harassing phone calls, and vandalizing property. Eight percent of women in the United States have been stalked at some time in their lives, and more than one million are stalked annually. Stalking is considered a unique crime because stalkers are obsessed with controlling their victims’ actions and feelings. A victim can experience extreme stress, rage, depression, and an inability to trust others.

Domestic violence is often shrouded in silence. People outside the family hesitate to interfere, even when they suspect abuse is occurring. Many times even extended family members deny that abuse is taking place, out of loyalty to the abuser and to protect the image of the family. Some people still argue—mistakenly—that intervention by outside sources endangers the sanctity of the home. Yet abuse and assault are no less serious when they occur within a family. Even when domestic violence is reported, sometimes there are failures to protect victims adequately or to punish perpetrators.

To learn more about the Catholic response, visit the U.S. Bishop’s website for their Pastoral Letter: “When I Call for Help” (http://bit.ly/usccb\_dv) If you or a family member or friend needs help now, contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline, 800 - 799 - 7233 (24 hours); 800 - 787 - 3224 (TTY); www.ndvh.org. If you are in immediate danger, call 911.

Until next week,

NEW MEMBERS STILL SOUGHT FOR NEIGHBOR TO NEIGHBOR OUTREACH

The Neighbor to Neighbor team held its first meeting Sept. 26 to begin exploring how to engage people moving into the parish and invite them to join us at St. Francis of Assisi. Based on the energy at the meeting and the many great ideas generated, this is a fun and intellectually stimulating group to join. The goal of the Neighbor to Neighbor initiative is to discern and plan how to reach out to our new neighbors and "get them in the door." We will also be exploring best ways to reach out to inactive members of St. Francis and invite them to re-engage.

We are still looking for additional members to help us discern a robust Neighbor to Neighbor Outreach Plan. Please call Deacon Dan at (240) 393-8180 or e-mail deacondanfinn@gmail.com if you would like to join.

SOLEMN NOVENA TO ST. JUDE THADDEUS
October 20th-28th, 2017

Every night, from Friday, October 20th– Saturday, October 28th at 8:00 p.m., we will be praying our solemn Novena to St. Jude. St. Jude, is the saint of impossible causes. All of us have situations in our lives, at home or at work, which can seem to have no possible solution. These very situations are the ones we would encourage you to bring to St. Jude during our novena. Make a commitment, come every night, and ask him to beg the Lord Jesus to find a way to break into our lives and bring His healing presence into impossible situations. He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and He reminds us: "Ask anything of the Father in My Name, and He will grant it to you." (Lk 11:9) The evening devotions consist in novena prayers, reflections, confessions, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, and veneration of the St. Jude relic. Fr. Jack MacFarlane will be leading the novena ceremony for us this year. Hope to see you there! (12701 Viers Mill Road, Rockville)
